

NEWS OF THE DAY. Stormy and colder. The sun rises at 6.00 and sets at 6.13.

The Markets. Wheat was easier in Chicago yesterday, and December closed 1-8c lower at 70 7-8.

Contents of To-day's Globe. 1. The royal visit to Ottawa. Mr. Ford's cable letter. Associated Press cable despatches.

1. The royal visit to Ottawa. Mr. Ford's cable letter. Associated Press cable despatches. 2. The royal visit to Ottawa (continued). The day's fatalities. Fire rebored.

General News. The G.T.R. elevator at Point Edward was destroyed by fire. Two more cases of smallpox are reported at Ottawa.

Mr. Adam Misener of Troy, Ont., is dead, aged 103 years. The Commercial Pacific Cable Company was incorporated at New York.

Improvements are being made in the Dover harbor, England, to permit German liners to stop there. The Anarchists under arrest at Chicago in connection with the shooting of President McKinley have all been discharged.

Howard Walker (colored) pleaded guilty at Stratford, Ontario, of manslaughter. His crime was shooting an employee of the Pan-American Circus. The Governor of Kentucky has been appealed for troops to hold in check the turbulent coal mines strikers of Madisonville, who are shooting at the guards.

Merchants on King and Yonge along the route of the royal procession are subscribing 90 cents per foot frontage of their lots for an effective scheme of decoration. At the trial of Czolgosz yesterday Dr. Mynter gave evidence that after four hours' search for the bullet in the body of President McKinley the family stopped the autopsy.

The Weather. The Globe's Barometer, Sept. 23, 10 p.m. Synopsis of Readings. Time Bar. Ther. Wind.

Steamship Arrivals. Parkland—At Liverpool, from Montreal. Barmington—At Glasgow, from Montreal.

THROUGH THE CHUTES.

The Duke Entertains the Duchess by the Lumina.

VOYAGE ON A CRIB.

A Good Illustration of Shanty Life.

THE CAPE PRESENTED.

Women of Ottawa's Gift to Her Royal Highness—A Grand Reception in the Senate Chamber.

(Special Despatch to The Globe.) Ottawa, Sept. 23.—The lumbermen of Ottawa furnished for the entertainment as well as the instruction of their Royal Highnesses a distinctly Canadian day, for is not lumbering the pioneer industry of older Canada at least?

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

as if a rainbow had fallen in the stream. The cribs went no farther than the foot of the slides, where Hudson Bay canoes under the charge of Factor Rankin were waiting to transport the ladies and gentlemen to Rockcliffe. The trip down the river was simply delightful, the extraordinary contrast between the perpendicular limestone cliffs on the Ottawa side with the low shores of the Hull side exciting universal admiration.

When Rockcliffe was reached the royal guests took their stand on the piazza of the Ottawa Canoe Club to witness the sports that had been arranged. There was a war canoe race of a most exciting description, the Grand Trunk team winning by a few feet from the Britannias. But the sport that was wholly new to the visitors was the log-rolling contests. The catlike activity of the log-rollers and the laughter when someone was tumbled into the water furnished infinite amusement.

not soon forget his speech. Mr. Edwards, Mr. McLachlin and the other gentlemen associated with him in furnishing this day's entertainment are entitled to the thanks of everybody for the successful way in which it was carried out. It was a unique Canadian day.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

His Royal Highness will honor them by its acceptance. This gift is a token of the loyal and affectionate regard in which your Royal Highness is personally held by the women of the Canadian Royal, they also wish to mark the occasion of your Royal Highness' first visit to the Dominion by asking your Royal Highness' kind acceptance of something which shall be typical of our country.

The Ladies Interested. In addition to the ladies already mentioned, the following ladies arranged the presentation—Mrs. Coulter, Mrs. H. K. Pinney and Miss Minnie Scott, members of the Executive, Mrs. W. D. Birkett, Lady Grant, Lady Bourinot, Lady Ritchie, Mrs. Gwynne, Mrs. R. W. Scott, Mrs. Lamothe, Mrs. Sifton, Mrs. H. K. Evans, Mrs. Walker, Mrs. J. M. Courtney, Mrs. Gill, Mrs. Bogert, Mrs. Herridge, Mrs. W. G. Perley, Mrs. T. C. Bate, Mrs. H. A. Bate, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. H. W. Dick, Mrs. Colling-Coates, Mrs. A. W. E. Harris, Mrs. George Murphy, Mrs. A. P. Sherwood, Mrs. Blackburn, Mrs. Slater, Mrs. George H. Perl, Mrs. William Moore, Mrs. Newell, Mrs. Rounthall, Mrs. M. P. Davis, Mrs. W. H. Davis, Mrs. Wm. Hutchison, Mrs. J. C. Glaschan, Mrs. T. W. McCrae, Mrs. Fred. White, Mrs. Clemov, Mrs. Warren Y. Soper, Mrs. Bowley, Mrs. P. D. Ross, Mrs. Roberts-Allan, Mrs. Godfrey Greene, Mrs. John Gilmour, Mrs. Alan Gilmour, Mrs. Montzambert, Lady Davies, Mrs. W. Anderson, Mrs. Marjorie, Mrs. Gandy, Mrs. Blair, Mrs. E. Skead, Miss Nicholson, Mrs. C. S. Scott, Mrs. Jarvis, Mrs. Ella, Miss Peers, Miss Beatrice Barber, Mrs. R. Brown, Mrs. J. J. Gemmill, Mrs. John MacPherson, Mrs. Martin Griffin and Mrs. Stumbles.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

War Office Considers Both's Invasion Hopeless. Improvements to Attract the German Liners. SMALLPOX IN LONDON. Londoners Alarmed—British Tobacco Combine—Speed to Give Way to Solidity in New Destroyers.

While there is no marked change in the situation in South Africa, there is a return of confidence in Lord Kitchener's methods of conducting the war. There is no evidence either that the War Office is hurried or that reinforcements will be despatched on a large scale from England, even if Natal be invaded and the raiders succeed in making a dash toward Ladysmith or Colenso.

While no contract has been signed by the North German and Hamburg-American lines for making Dover a port of call, there is every reason to believe that the project will be carried out in the course of two years. Officials of the Harbor Board have assured me that the two German lines would make connections at Dover at once if adequate accommodation and facilities could be offered.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

CONFIDENCE RETURNING.

War Office Considers Both's Invasion Hopeless.

DOVER HARBOR.

Improvements to Attract the German Liners.

SMALLPOX IN LONDON.

Londoners Alarmed—British Tobacco Combine—Speed to Give Way to Solidity in New Destroyers.

While there is no marked change in the situation in South Africa, there is a return of confidence in Lord Kitchener's methods of conducting the war. There is no evidence either that the War Office is hurried or that reinforcements will be despatched on a large scale from England, even if Natal be invaded and the raiders succeed in making a dash toward Ladysmith or Colenso.

While no contract has been signed by the North German and Hamburg-American lines for making Dover a port of call, there is every reason to believe that the project will be carried out in the course of two years. Officials of the Harbor Board have assured me that the two German lines would make connections at Dover at once if adequate accommodation and facilities could be offered.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

disease has gained quite an unusual hold on one or two metropolitan districts. The London School Board was asked by the Local Government Board to allow the children in its schools to be examined, to see if they had been vaccinated, but permission was only granted on condition that parents saw no objection to the examination.

A British Tobacco Combine. British tobacco manufacturers are alarmed by the American absorption of Ogden's, and it is announced that they will combine to protect their interests.

Mr. Yerkes Impatient. Mr. C. T. Yerkes is getting impatient at the delay in fixing the system for electrifying the two principal underground railways of London. He complains that the Metropolitan Company is simply procrastinating. The District Company is, he says, ready to arbitrate at once.

A More Solid Cobra. There is as yet nothing to justify the hypothesis that the ill-fated destroyer, Cobra, touched ground. The causes which led her to break in two and founder without the slightest warning may, perhaps, never be determined. Naval authorities have, however, decided that in construction of future vessels speed will be sacrificed to solidity. I.N.F.

DECEIVING THE BURGHERS. BOER FICTIONS TO KEEP THE MEN FIGHTING. An intercepted despatch from Liebenberg to Delarey—He asks for similar Good News to Encourage Burghers—Both Russia and France Said to be Fighting Great Britain.

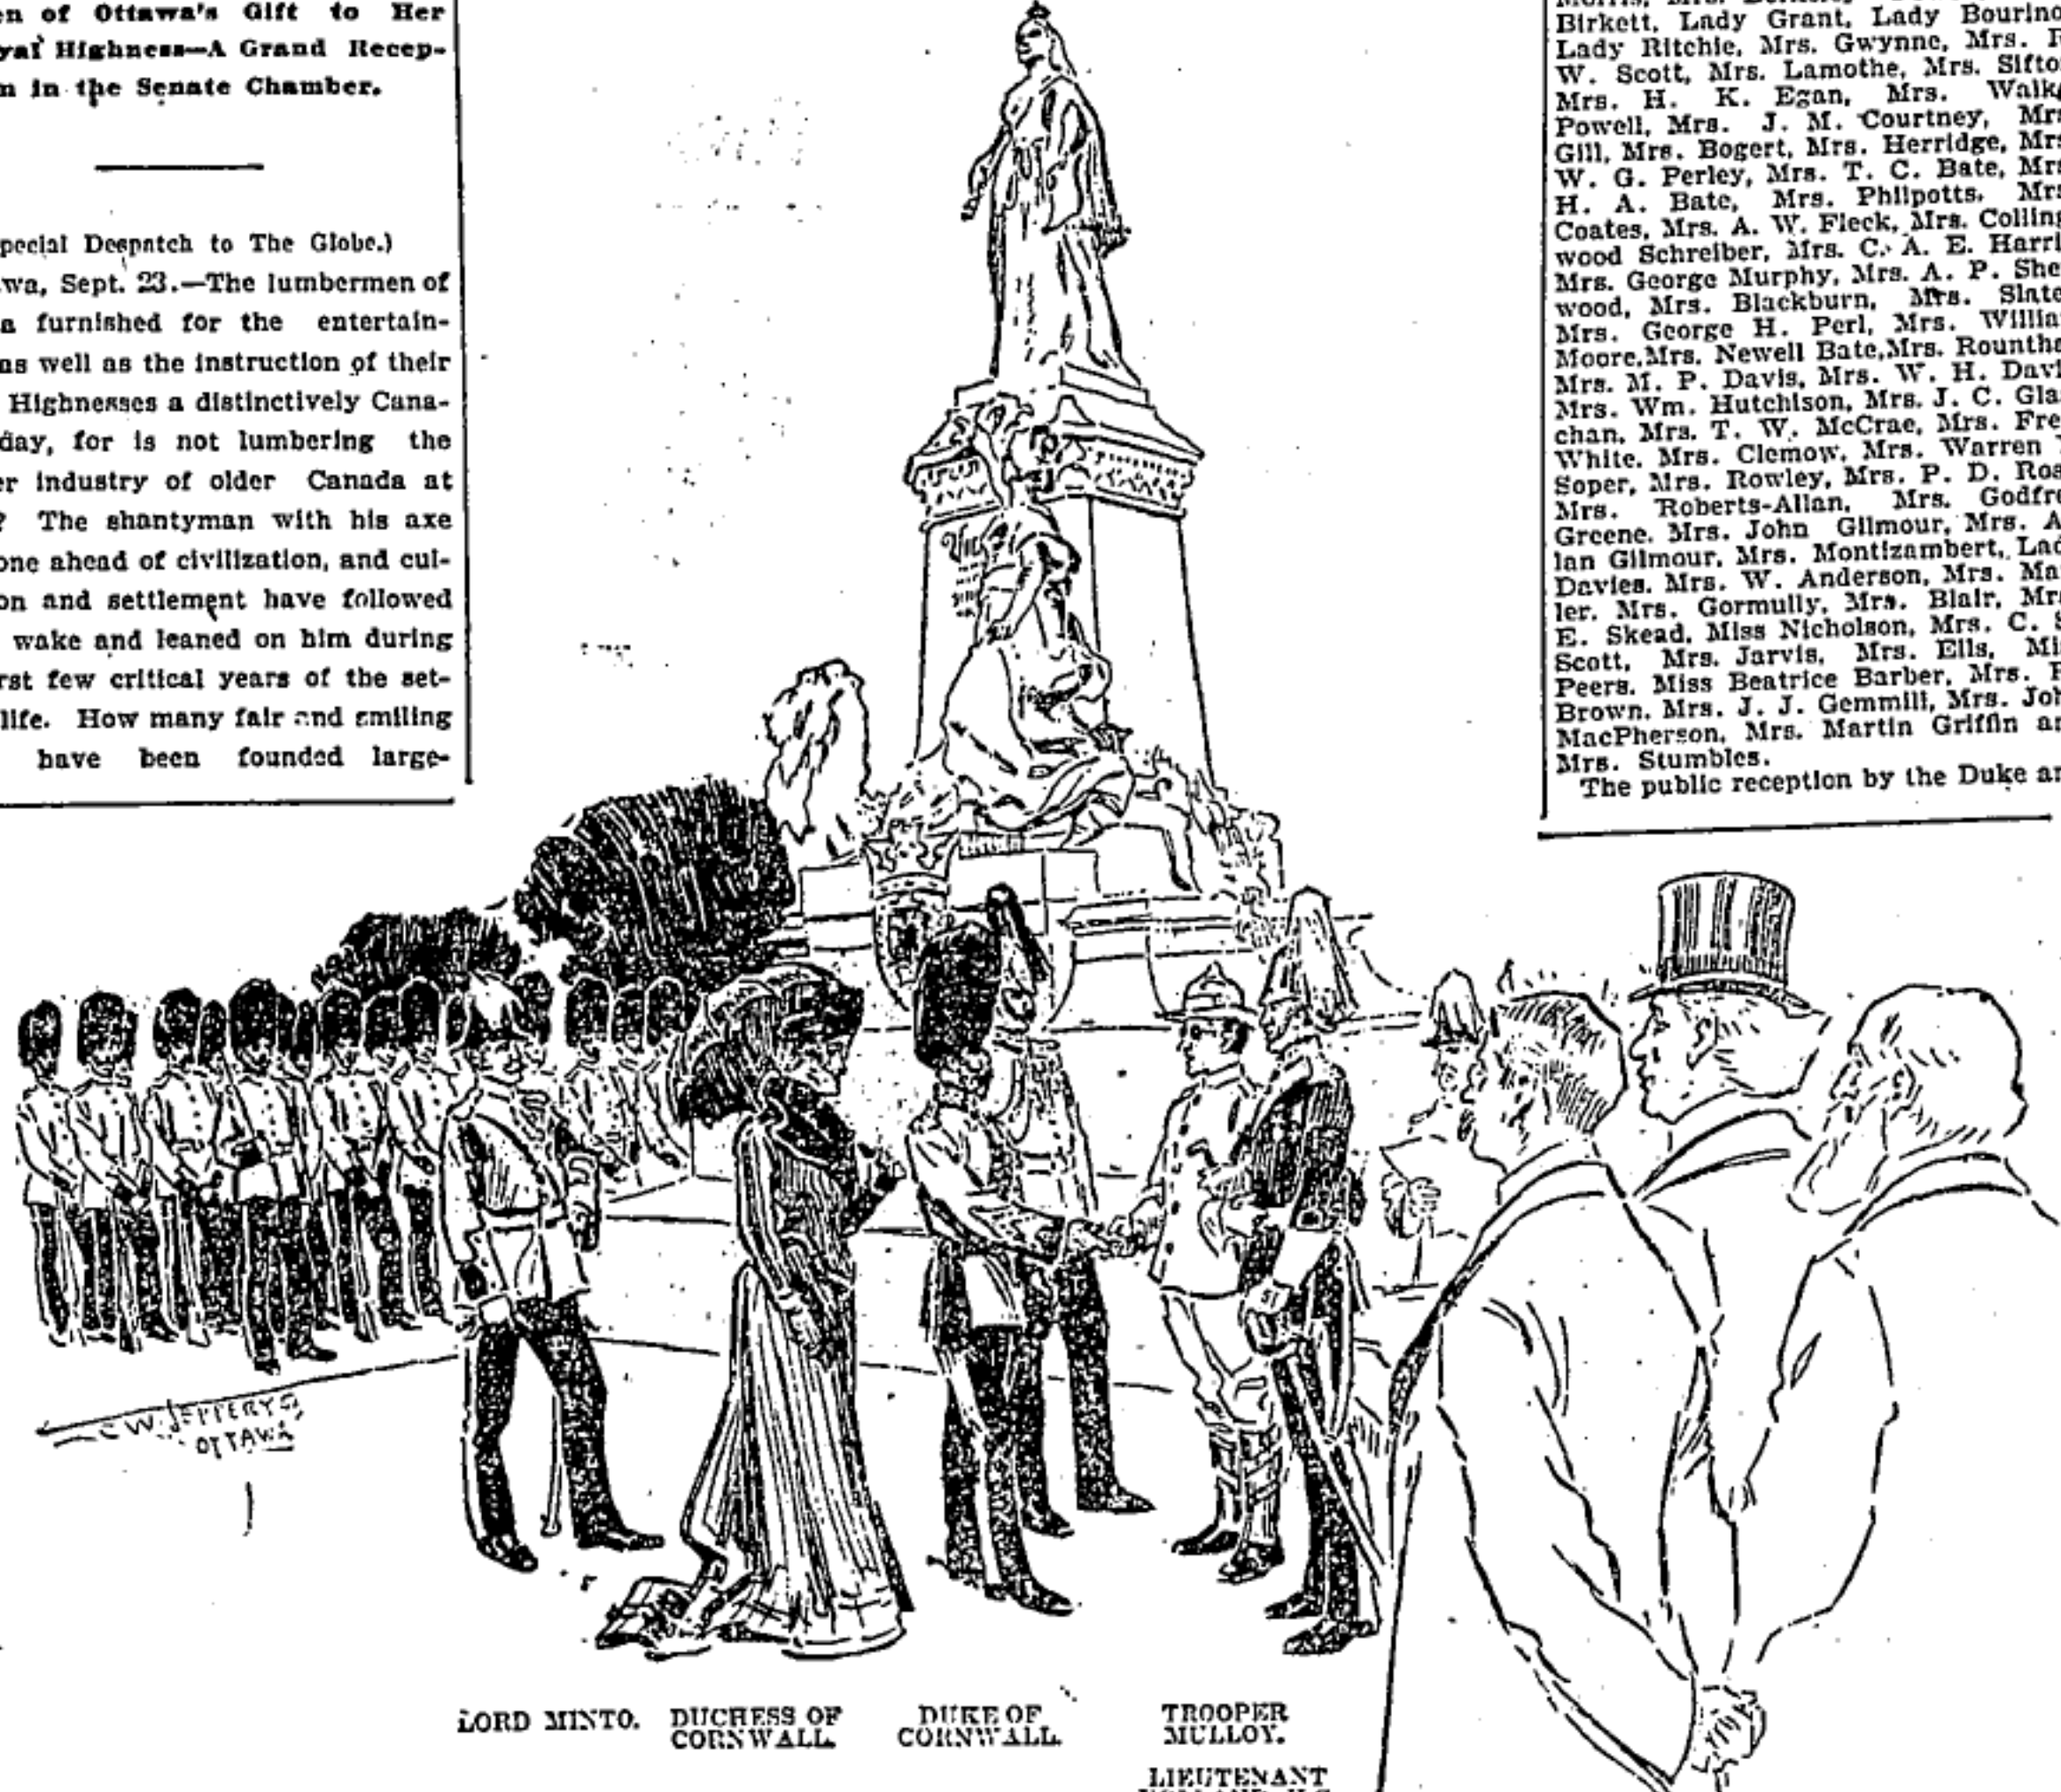

London, Sept. 23.—A Reuters' despatch from Pretoria gives another instance of the manner in which the Boer leaders misled the rank and file of the burghers. It is afforded by an intercepted despatch from Commandant Liebenberg to Commandant Delarey informing the latter of the departure of the British mobile columns from the neighborhood, which, he adds, supports reports received of a defeat of the English with great slaughter on the other side of Pretoria and the capture of the entire British camp, with cannon.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

LOVAT'S SCOUTS. The Corps of Scotch Deer-stalkers Who Suffered So Severely. London, Sept. 23.—Lord Lovat's Scouts, who suffered in the fight reported yesterday, are one of the most famous of the irregular corps added to the British army in the South African war. Lord Lovat, head of the Fraser clan, after the first reverses of the war, conceived the idea of utilizing the Highland deer-stalkers to supply the want of trained and reliable scouts in the regular army.

ly because the lumberman not only afforded employment to the settler during a portion of the year, but also purchased at good prices his oats, potatoes and other farm products? So it may be well said that the programme of to-day was concerned with the first of Canadian industries, being as it was an exemplification of some of the processes by which the tall trees of the forest are converted into the lumber of commerce.

Smallpox Epidemic in London. London, Sept. 23, 6 a.m.—(Special.)—Londoners are frightened by the spread of the smallpox epidemic. The TROOPER MULLOY (THE BLIND SOUTH AFRICA VETERAN), LED UP BY LIEUTENANT HOLLAND, V.C., TO RECEIVE HIS MEDAL FROM H.R.H. THE DUKE OF CORNWALL AND YORK, OTTAWA, SATURDAY, SEPT. 21st. STATUE OF QUEEN VICTORIA. UNVEILED BY THE DUKE, IN THE BACKGROUND.